Move Is Made to Test Kefauver's Ohio Popularity

Slate of Delegates for "Crime Buster" Will Be Placed Before Voters.

Washington, Jan. 7. (AP)—Rep. Hays (D-Ohio) announced today a complete slate of delegates will be entered in the Ohio Democratic primaries for Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) for the presidential nomination.

Hays made his announcement at a new conference.

Ohio law requires a candidate for a party primary nomination enter his consent in writing before delegates may be placed upon the party ballot.

Asked if he had such a written approval from Sen. Kefauver, Hays replied:

"I don't have it at the moment. But I have been in politics for 20 years and you'll just have to assume I know what I'm doing."

It was Hays who last month emerged from a White House conference with President Truman saying the President would issue a statement by Feb. 6 telling whether or not he was a candidate for re-election.

The White House said Mr. Truman had not made any commitments about the date for announcing his intentions.

Hays told newsmen "there will be no repudiation of my action."

The announcement was the first open move to get the ball rolling for the Tennessee senator, who achieved nation-wide prominence over the television networks during hearings of the Senate crime investigating committee. Kefauver was chairman of the committee.

Truce Talks Deadlocked, Red Asserts

Vishinsky Renews His Appeal for High-Level Talks on Korea Issue.

Paris, Jan. 7. (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky said today the Korean truce talks at Panmunjom have reached a deadlock. He urged a high level Security Council meeting to help break it.

Vishinsky told the United Nations political committee "we want these negotiations to be concluded successfully and quickly" and said "let's have a Security Council meeting, consisting of high-level persons, get together and try to help them."

He said the Soviet proposal would not break up the talks at the front but would merely consider ways of helping get them out of the rut "in which they have been floundering for six months."

Such a council meeting, attended by foreign ministers or chiefs of state, he said, would not delay the talks at Panmunjom and would not have the effect of shifting the negotiations from Korea to Paris.

Both British Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd and U. S. Delegate Benjamin Cohen had charged adoption of the Soviet plan would delay or disrupt the talks and, moreover, would probably increase rather than decrease international tension.

Lloyd had said Vishinsky's proposal must be "depleted and opposed."

But a split has developed between the U. S. and other prospective sponsors of a rival plan for a special council meeting on world tensions with member nations being represented by foreign ministers. The U. S. wants the western counter-thrust to state specifically that the meeting would not be called until the council chose the time, but other countries expressed belief such a limitation would give the Soviet Union ground to accuse the West of stalling.

Lloyd told the UN political committee adoption of the Soviet plan might break up the truce talks now under way in Korea.

A specific private meeting of countries concerned in the divergent non-Communist views of the Soviet and American proposals was arranged today to seek a common ground. The meeting broke up without agreement and another session was set for tomorrow.

Winnie-Truman Meet Progresses

Washington, Jan. 7. (AP)—President Truman and Prime Minister Churchill opened a detailed survey of world affairs today. Informants said the talks began with an inquiry into western defense problems.

Churchill appeared for his first White House visit of his current trip three minutes before 10 a. m. (CST), accompanied by Foreign Minister Anthony Eden and Sir Oliver Franks, British ambassador to the U. S.

Two dozen photographers and newsmen turned their cameras on the 77-year-old British statesman as he stepped from a Rolls Royce. He was wearing his familiar bowler hat and smoking one of his big Havana cigars.

Some informants said an agenda for the two days of White House conferences was agreed upon at a private talk among the two leaders and their foreign ministers aboard the yacht "Williamsburg" Saturday night.

This was described as listing for discussion first a number of matters such as organization of European army and the structure of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) which are vital to the defense of Western Europe.

General Declares He Will Not Make Active Campaign

Has No Intention of Asking To Be Relieved of Duties.

Washington, Jan. 7. (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower proclaimed himself a Republican today and made it clear he would accept that party's presidential nomination if it is offered. But he said he won't actively seek it.

In a Paris statement, the 61-year-old general swept away much of the fog of uncertainty that has swirled for the last five years about his place in the picture of presidential possibilities.

His statement was prompted by the week end move by Senator Lodge, Republican, Massachusetts, who announced (a) Eisenhower's name would be entered in the March 11 New Hampshire presidential primary, and (b) there would be a "finish fight" to win the GOP nomination for the general.

On GOP Bandwagon

Eisenhower, who has been talked as both a Democrat and a Republican presidential possibility, made these main points in his statement:

1. He said Lodge was correct in calling him a Republican.
2. He has no intention of asking that he be relieved of his present assignment as leader of the European defense forces.
3. He will not take part in pre-convention activities of those seeking the nomination for him.
4. He recognizes the right of others to engage in an attempt "to place before me next July (When the Republican convention meets) a duty that would transcend by present responsibility."

Eisenhower's statement tremendously cheered Republicans who have been working for his nomination and have felt themselves handicapped by the general's long silence.

Some of them were getting restless under the feeling uncertainty as to Eisenhower's position was letting Senator Taft of Ohio, first to announce as a candidate, get off to a long lead in bidding for support.

Get Green Light

The "go ahead" which Eisenhower in effect gave his backers today will let them press their campaign for him with more assurance.

Two other candidates also are formally in the race—Gov. Earl Warren of California and Harold Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania and former Governor of Minnesota.

Another practical effect of today's statement was to pull the rug from under those Democrats who have been beating the drums for the nomination of Eisenhower by their party.

At the White House, aides said President Truman had no comment on the general's statement.

There were Eisenhower-for-President booms in both major parties in 1948, despite his disavowal of political ambitions.

The booms persisted until he announced with complete finality that he would not accept such a nomination even if it were given to him.

Last November, after a group of Republicans started a new boom and some of them had conferred with Ike, he kept the door open.

From then on the GOP group backing Eisenhower for their party's presidential nomination insisted with fresh emphasis that he would be available.

But even yesterday, Lodge, when saying Eisenhower's name would be entered in the GOP New Hampshire primary, conceded he had no direct authorization from the general to take that step.

Apparently, however, Lodge had reason to expect some early statement from Eisenhower. But the 22-hour wait, before the statement actually was issued, seemingly was longer than the Senator anticipated.

French Cabinet Is Collapsed

Paris, Jan. 7. (AP)—Premier Rene Pleven's five-month-old cabinet collapsed tonight.

The French National Assembly ousted the coalition government after hearing a final plea from Pleven for a freer hand to deal with the economic situation in this hard-pinched country.

The defeat came on his demand for power to cut the 140 billion franc (400 million dollar) deficit of the Nationalized Railway System.

The Socialists, which have supported the cabinet on most issues, broke away on this one. Many of the railway workers are Socialists and the party leadership feared economies on the roads would result in large scale firings, and so decided earlier today to oppose the government demands.

Court Upholds Damage Award

Washington, Jan. 7. (AP)—The Supreme Court today unanimously upheld a $750,000 Taft-Hartley Act damage award against Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen's Union.

The judgment won by the Juneau (Alaska) Spruce Corp. was the largest to date and the first to reach the high court.

It grew out of a suit charging Bridges' union damaged the company's business by setting up picket lines and making "coercive" statements during a jurisdictional row between two rival labor organizations more than two years ago.

The firm had a contract with the CIO Woodworkers of America but the longshoremen tried to force the company to give barge-loading work to Bridges' men.

Bridges' union has been expelled from the CIO on the grounds its leadership followed the Communist Party line.

Bridges himself is free on bail after his conviction on charges that he lied in denying membership in the Communist Party when he obtained American citizenship. The Australian-born labor leader has appealed the conviction, but it has not yet reached the Supreme Court.

Seven Perish in Apartment Blaze

Westfield, Mass., Jan. 7. (AP)—At least seven persons perished in a $1,000,000 five-story apartment-business block fire last night.

Firemen still poured water into the smoldering ruins more than 12 hours after the blaze as they awaited permission to search the debris.

Only a shell remained today after the entire five floors collapsed into the basement.

Fourteen persons at first were believed to have perished, but seven later were accounted for.

Fifteen persons were injured, 13 seriously enough to be kept at Noble Hospital. The other two were discharged.

Fire Chief Jeremiah Moriarty said the walls were in danger of collapsing and no one would be allowed to enter the ruins until an inspection by State Fire Marshal William J. Puzzo and Westfield Building Inspector Ralph Sizer has been completed.

QUADS BORN

New York, Jan. 7. (AP)—Quadruplets—three girls and a boy—were born today to Mrs. Fannie Graber, 38. The father, Joseph, 38, was surprised and overjoyed at the news. Graber immediately began to study how the family could rearrange their five-room apartment to accommodate the four new arrivals and the Grabers' three other children, Sheldon, five; Beverly, four, and Sandra, three.

Traffic Accidents Blamed For Half Violent Deaths

(By The Associated Press)

Life shattering traffic crashes kept up their usual horrid pace in Texas over 1952's first week-end with auto and truck accidents causing half of the 12 violent deaths reported.

Two persons burned to death, one died in a shooting, one by drowning, one was stabbed to death, and another died of asphyxiation.

The latest reported deaths up to early Monday morning included: Howard Seidel, 52, was found stabbed to death in his car early Sunday about 11 miles west of Victoria. Officers said wounds in the groceryman's chest and abdomen were made by his own pocket knife.

The body of Lee Clyde Frederick, 70, Abilene, was found on the banks of a creek northwest of Abilene. An inquest verdict of accidental drowning was returned. James Norman Young, 23, Sunray, Moore County, was killed early Sunday when his car skidded out of control on an ice-coated curve and overturned five miles east of Quanah.

Mrs. Grace Rodriguez, 65, San Antonio, died Sunday of injuries received Saturday afternoon when struck by a car as she walked across a street.

Joe Cheskeskie, about 70, burned to death in a rooming house fire Sunday at Orange. Two other roomers were seriously burned.

Miss Betty Britton, 68, Anadarko, Okla., was killed Sunday in an automobile accident three miles south of Salado.

Mrs. J. W. O'Bryan, 93, was fatally burned at her home in Rankin Sunday when she stumbled against a kerosene heater and the flaming fuel splashed over her clothing.

Mrs. Doris Leach, 35, Sweetwater, was fatally injured early Sunday when the car in which she was riding overturned five miles east of Sweetwater.

Robert Dorton Tobola, 24, student at the University of Southern California, was found dead in his car at Houston Saturday. A hose, attached to the exhaust pipe, had

Old Cowhand Buried Sunday

Ponca City, Okla., Jan. 7. (AP)—The old cowhand rests on Cowboy Hill today with a bit of the colorful past of the old wild west.

That's where they buried Col. Zack Miller yesterday. After simple rites at the 101 Ranch store, all that is left of his once famed and vast rodeo empire, Colonel Zack was lowered into a grave hacked out of the frozen earth at the hill's crest.

The cortege to the grave had followed brief quotes from the scriptures by the Rev. Thomas O. Moehle, who concluded:

"I lift up mine eyes to the hills from whence cometh my help."

The crowd of 600 then repeated the Lord's Prayer.

And as the old rodeo king's body went back to the dust, an elder of the Ponca Indian tribe, atop Cowboy Hill, intoned in the Ponca tongue:

"Dear God, take care of the Indian's brother."

The last of the three Miller brothers who expanded the old George Miller Ranch into a world famous showplace before the depression years, Miller died in Waco, Texas, following a long illness.

The body lay in state Saturday surrounded by buffalo hides, deer heads, guns and other mementoes of 101 Ranch's heyday. Four Indian tribes were represented at the funeral—Ponca, Otoe, Pawnee and Osage.

Survivors include a son, Zack Miller, Jr., and two daughters, Mrs. James Gibbs, Valley Mills, Texas, and Mrs. Lee Flood, Midland, Texas.

No Progress in Korea Truce Talk

Munsan, Korea, Jan. 7. (AP)—The United Nations' chief truce negotiator said today there are growing indications that the Communists do not want a stable armistice in Korea.

Today's report from Panmunjom was the now familiar "no progress."

If the Communists "are acting in good faith and sincerely want peace, there can be no reason for them to construct military airfields during the period of an armistice," said Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy. He flew to Tokyo for conferences with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander.

"If, on the other hand, the Communists are acting in bad faith and are, in fact, preparing for war, the construction of military airfields becomes, and is, a matter of great urgency to them," Joy added.

The Reds reiterated their insistence on the right to construct and repair airfields during a brief Monday meeting of the subcommittee on truce supervision.

tug hoped to make port sometime Wednesday.

Carlsen's heroic stand with his near-sinking vessel—which he refused to leave—had started some 300 miles west of the English coast, where the Flying Enterprise almost capsized in the worst Atlantic storm in 50 years.

The U. S. destroyer Willard Keith, escorting the tug and her charge, reported the little convoy's 8 a. m. position and said "condition of Enterprise unchanged." The message said the weather was cloudy, with a light fog, the sea moderate with westerly swells, and visibility was three to six miles.

Heavier weather earlier had forced the tug to take a zig-zag course to ease the strain on the tow.

WHAT IS THIS NEW TEXAS MOTOR VEHICLE SAFETY RESPONSIBILITY LAW?

In simplest terms, it declares that a motor vehicle operator who injures or kills another person, or damages his property in excess of $100, must stand prepared to prove his financial responsibility to pay for the probable amount of damage. If he fails to do so, the operator must forfeit his privilege to drive a motor vehicle in Texas.

NOT A NEW TYPE OF LAW

45 States, the District of Columbia, Hawaii and eight Canadian provinces have Motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility laws, which upon occasion, require motorists to prove financial responsibility, or their drivers' licenses will be suspended.

INTENT OF THESE LAWS

To promote safety on the streets and highways . . . to insure adequate financial compensation to innocent victims of accidents . . . to strike hard at the reckless and financially irresponsible motorist for the good of the public generally and particularly for the benefit of the safe, careful and responsible driver and pedestrian.

ARE YOU PREPARED TO PROVE YOUR FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY?

Automobile Bodily Injury and Property Damage Liability insurance is the most popular and least expensive method to prove financial responsibility under these laws.

A FARMERS Dividend Paying, Texas Standard form, Non-Assessable policy is acceptable to the State as security to prove your financial responsibility.

Fashion Editors View New Styles

New York, Jan. 7. (AP)—What you'll wear in the Easter parade is being inspected this week by a rushed and harried mob of fashion editors representing newspapers all over the United States and many foreign points.

Twice a year these hard-working ladies descend on New York's congested garment district for a schedule of fashion showings that begin every morning with 8 o'clock breakfast and continue far into the night, leaving little time for either food or sleep.

The showings cover every phase of feminine apparel, from the dresses, coats and suits that make up the main shows to the hats, shoes and accessories that are wedged in between at luncheon, cocktail and dinner shows.

To attend every style preview to which they are invited during this hectic period known as Press Week in the garment industry, each editor would have to be divided into at least three parts, all equipped with iron constitutions. All make ready for a rest cure when it is over.

New York's fashion Press Week, started some ten years ago by the New York Dress Institute, has become a field day for the thousands of apparel and accessory manufacturers in the world's biggest garment center. What started as a fairly calm schedule of fashion previews by a score or less of the top designers has grown to a Frankenstein of incredible proportions.

Makers of everything from scarfs to costume jewelry and from handbags to blouses are determined to show their wares to the visiting press before the exhausted editors can escape to the comparative peace and quiet of their own home towns.

Because they are in the main conscientious reporters, eager to give a complete account of coming styles to the folks back home, most of the visiting editors try to make the whole schedule of showings, proceeding at a full gallop from dawn to midnight, filling reams of notebook paper, collecting hundreds of fashion photographs and emerging from the fray at the end of the week like a punch-drunk fighter.

During the opening day of the current series, the editors were welcomed at a breakfast and forum, proceeded to showings by Designers Pauline Trigere and Philip Mangone during the morning, wedged in a showing of Delman shoes at noon, had lunch at one to the accompaniment of a show by the International Silk Association, proceeded through a couple more dress shows during the afternoon and wound up with an evening preview of custom clothes by Elizabeth Arden at her plush Fifth Avenue salon.

Most of the fashion news of the day was garnered at the two morning showings of Pauline Trigere and Philip Mangone, with the fabulous touch supplied by Miss Arden.

Miss Trigere, fore-handed as usual, dramatized for the editors the importance of the princess silhouette for Spring, showing a collection both comprehensive and cohesive, carrying out the corseted midriff and fitted torso look in every number. The princess line as executed by Trigere hugs the body from bust to hips, revealing every line of the torso and necessitating the elimination of all bulges, either through expert corsetry or strong-minded diet.

Mangone, the old master tailor, also accents the importance of a slim waistline in his collection of precise, nip-waisted suits, but offers a variety of silhouettes, ranging from the suit with bell skirt and rounded jacket to his perennial favorite, the classic, pencil-slim tailleur.

Fabrics are of high importance in all the main collections, as designers make the most of new triumphs of the weavers in feather-light wools with varied texture interest, and rich silks that drape and tailor like suitings.

Adopted Tot Is Headed for Texas

New York, Jan. 7. (AP)—A new Texan from Norway stopped off in Maryland awhile today before coming on to her new home in McAllen.

She is Tina, blonde, blue-eyed and four months old, who is to be adopted by Rep. and Mrs. Lloyd M. Bentzen, Jr.

Yesterday, Lloyd and Beryl Ann Bentzen met the new member of their household at Idlewild Airport. But the most excited persons as the Scandinavian Airlines plane landed were Lloyd III and Lan, seven and four-year-old sons of the Bentzens.

It was the boys' desire for a baby sister that led to the adoption proceedings.

Tina, who made the trip with a special stewardess, slept right through the welcome.

Bentzen, 30, said he and Mrs. Bentzen decided to adopt a Norwegian child while visiting U. S. Ambassador Charles U. Bay in Norway last September. Bay, Bentzen told newsmen, had adopted three.

Adoption proceedings were started in Norway after Tina had been picked out in Oslo. But when they returned to the U. S., they found the Norwegian immigration quota had been exceeded.

Sen. Johnson of Texas was asked for help and the senator introduced a bill waiving the quota restriction and admitting the baby.

Bentzen said the bill went from Senate to House and to President Truman for signing in two days to establish what he thinks is a record for special measures.

And today Tina rested at Silver Spring, Md., adjacent to Washington, D. C., before flying to McAllen, Texas and home.

It's so easy to relieve coughs and stuffiness of colds in a hurry this home-proved way... with 2 spoonfuls of Vicks VapoRub in a vaporizer or in a bowl of boiling water as directed in package. Just breathe in the steam! Every single breath carries VapoRub's soothing medications deep into throat and large bronchial tubes. It medicates irritated membranes, helps restore normal breathing. For coughs or upper bronchial congestion there's nothing like using Vicks VapoRub in steam. For continued relief always rub it on throat, chest and back.

EISENHOWER INTENTIONS STILL A 'MYSTERY'

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts held his widely advertised press conference in Washington Sunday, but it was totally lacking in any news value so far as the political intentions of General Dwight D. Eisenhower are concerned. Senator Lodge has been chosen as manager of the Eisenhower campaign but he has been embarrassed by his candidate, who has up to the present moment made no public statement as to whether he would accept the nomination for President.

Senator Lodge attempted to clear up one point. He said he had assurance that General Eisenhower is a Republican and suggested that reporters check with the General's headquarters in Paris to verify that claim. He also said he had assurance that in due time his candidate would disclose his plans and that he would become a candidate for President on the Republican ticket.

But there was no verification beyond the Senator's "assurances" and he did not offer any proof that they came from any source closer than himself to General Eisenhower.

As to the General's political affiliations, there has never been much reason to doubt his leaning toward the Republican position. His speeches while serving as president of Columbia University were invariably critical of the Truman Administration's domestic policies.

So it all adds up to more of the same, so far as General Eisenhower's candidacy is concerned. It was necessary to do something because the deadline for filing names of candidates in the New Hampshire primaries is approaching and if that opportunity to get in the list of possible nominees were allowed to pass it could be serious.

Senator Lodge held his press conference but he didn't produce the sensational news he had promised. General Ike's political ambitions, if any, are as uncertain as ever.

FARMERS GETTING A TASTE OF GOVERNMENT BY MEN

Texas ginners, meeting in Dallas, have voiced a vigorous protest against proposals of the Truman Administration affecting the use of migrant labor in harvesting of cotton. One of the proposals is to enact a law which would impose a penitentiary sentence on any farmer who employs a person illegally in this country. The other would authorize agents of the Immigration Bureau to search a farmer's premises without a warrant if the farmer is suspected of harboring wetbacks.

It is needless to point out that these proposals are a long step toward establishing a police state in this country fashioned along the lines of the pre-war systems in Germany and the present one in Russia.

Take a look at the facts of the situation and see if you think the foregoing statement is extreme. How is an individual farmer going to make certain whether a Mexican cotton picker, who can't speak English and can neither read nor write his own language, is illegally in this country? The answer, of course, is that he cannot be certain, which means that in order to avoid harassment and a possible term in prison he will be well advised not to employ any Mexican labor.

But if any doubt remains as to whether the proposed legislation will establish a secret police system in this country the second suggestion that Immigration agents should be allowed to enter private premises without a search warrant, should dispel it.

We are drifting pretty far and pretty fast away from a government by law in this country. Until recently business interests were the targets of the new trend, but now the farmers are getting a taste of it. Let us hope the reaction will get some results of the kind this country needs rather desperately at the present time.

The greatest failure of all is the person who fails to even try. Nothing is given away so liberally as advice.

When we read the stories about how stunning the bride looked, we always imagine the groom looked stunned.

We are more discontented from failure to satisfy our desires than from failure to satisfy our wants.

The reason some girls never get married is they are too biased. It's bias this and bias that until the boy friend is busted.

Bread and Butter
Fruited Gelatin Carrot Slaw
Beverage

Brown Chicken Fricassee:

Ingredients: 4 to 5 pound fowl (cut in about 11 pieces), 2 tablespoons fat, 6 cups water, 2 small carrots (sliced), 2 stalks celery (sliced), 1 medium-sized onion, 3 peppercorns, ¼ teaspoon thyme, 1½ teaspoon salt, 6 tablespoons nonfat dry milk, 6 tablespoons flour.

Method: Clean chicken and dry. Heat 2 tablespoons fat in heavy kettle. Brown pieces of chicken on all sides. Add water, carrots, celery, onion, peppercorns, and thyme. If there is less than 3 cups of broth, add enough water to make 3 cups. Pour back into kettle. Combine nonfat dry milk and flour; sprinkle over top of broth. ## Dr. Logan's Wife

By Diana Gaines

Copyright 1951 by Diana Gaines. Used by arrangement with the publishers, Random House, Inc. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Jennet Logan's experience with "doctor's parties" and always been bored until she attends one at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Pelletier. There with her husband, Dr. Gus Logan, Jennet meets Peter Surinow, a young and charming biophysicist engaged in research in atomic medicine at Angel's hospital. Peter awakens in Jennet the realization that she has no outside interests, no objective in life. On the way home Jennet tells Dr. Logan that she intends to take a volunteer job at Angel's hospital. The next morning, Dr. Logan, always in ill health, has a cold. He spends the morning going over household accounts.

GUS sighed and took his glasses off. Without them his eyes hardened and lost size. He frowned and the deep V she knew so well appeared over the bridge of his nose. With the cruelty so often present in a mate's silence, she searched the tired, sweet, pudgy face for a face she had married. Her memory was as cold as a photographer's retouching pencil. It hoisted the jowled flesh, covered the skull bump with the remembered brown curl, blurred the lines around the eyes where muscle tone no longer resisted socket, erased the two little square pillows of flesh at the corners of the upper lip that lent sullenness to sobriety. Could these little deteriorations make the difference between pride of ownership and reluctant fealty? Was it the merciful less years between 41 and 51 that had wrought the changes or was it her own merciless heart that had changed? Resolutely, she dragged her mind from his face and applied it to his words.

"I think we ought to be a little more saving, Jen," he was saying. "Even with my practice curtailed, there's still about $25,000 a year coming in—on the books, that is. Collections don't come up to that figure, of course. Now that the house is almost paid off, we ought to try to put something by." He gave a little laugh. "I can't help thinking of that old joke of the robber sticking a gun in a man's ribs, saying, 'Your life or your money!' And the man says, 'Take my life. I need the money.' That's about the spot I'm in. As long as my ticker holds out, we're all right. But if it's going to act up, we'd be better off to have it stop altogether. I'm worth a lot more dead than disabled." He ignored Jenny's shocked inhalation. "And even dead, I'm not worth as much as I'd like to be for you. I should have had life insurance before, but until we married there was no reason for it—and that first year I didn't think of it. All of a sudden the war was on, and there was need for it and I got a bargain—the G.I. cut-rate price. After the war I took out that $50,000 policy. So that makes $60,000—sounds like a lot, but it wouldn't keep you in comfort for more than seven, eight years, maybe 10 if you invested it right."

"Gus, stop it, will you? I can't bear it!" Jennet put her hands over her ears. "It's too early in the morning for this morbid kind of talk."

"I'm not being morbid. I'm just talking things over with you so you'll have some idea. After all, you can't look to your folks for cushion. It's touch and go with them all the time. If anything should happen to your father . . ."

JENNET jerked out of the chair, lit a cigaret with exaggerated movements. "I don't want to think of death. I don't want to plan for terrible things to happen. I want to enjoy today. Forget tomorrow. You can't have to keep me wrapped in asbestos. I can always go to work."

"Yes, of course," he said, "but I'd hate to feel you had to work to live. It's different when a person's young. . . ."

"Gus!" The word caught fire, hissed like a fuse. "I'm not even 35!"

It was Gus's turn to become impatient. "But you won't always be! I don't know what you're being so touchy. I may live to a ripe old age, but if I don't, I want to know you're safe—is that such a detestable attitude?"

She rushed to the side of the bed, dropped to her knees. "Oh, I know, Gus. I know. You're good. I have no right to be cross. It's just I hate facing things, like this. I don't want you to leave me. Ever."

She brought her head up sharply, opened her eyes wide and added, "I'm wicked, Gus. I'm vain and I'm shallow, and I hate myself. Without you, I'd be lost."

"H" blew his nose. "There are a few things I ought to attend to today. I may go down to the village later. I feel much better."

"No," she said. "You're to stay home today. What things—can't I take care of them for you?"

"Well, a check I wanted to deposit to our account. And I promised Pelletier I'd return this preliminary paper he asked me to read last night. He's been doing some exciting work with radioactive cocktails for heart trouble. I've been toying with the idea of telling him about my own condition. Only I rather hate to have it known around the hospital. I don't want to scare away business."

She got up and stretched and yawned. "I'll be glad to take your paper to Pelletier. I want to arrange about that volunteer job anyway. This will keep me from procrastinating. And the bank is on the way." She lingered at the door, so eager to be gone that she could not permit herself to hurry. "Will you promise to take a sunbath—and drink lots of fruit juices? I'll be back in an hour or two."

"Um," Gus was back at the newspaper and he barely heard her.

Lions to Meet Childress At Gym Tuesday Night

Vernon Looking For Seventh Win Against Bobcats

The Vernon Lions will be gunning for their seventh win of the season here Tuesday night when they tackle the ever-tough Childress Bobcats at Lion gym.

The A-B doubleheader is slated to get under way at 6:30. The Lions have a 6-3 mark and the Bees a 5-2 record.

This will possibly be the last practice game for the Lions until after the start of the District 1-AAA race Jan. 18. They will have one game left with Wichita Falls and one left with Childress—both road games—but the tilts will probably be played after start of district play.

The Lion chances in the 1-AAA race will be determined rapidly, at the Jan. 18 meeting with highly-favored Sweetwater in fact.

The Mustangs and Plainview have been rated as top contenders for the championship. Sweetwater, after a slow start, has been improving rapidly and Plainview has a veteran team under former Olney Coach Bob Clindaniel.

Lamesa and Big Spring have shown flashes of power and could prove troublesome. Midland has yet to win a game.

Rigid Code Planned for Athletics

Washington, Jan. 7. (AP)—Ten college presidents today buckled down to the tough chore of writing a strict code for intercollegiate athletics.

They hope to complete their job by nightfall. But exactly what they have written down—which may have a far-reaching effect on college sports—won't be made public immediately.

The report first will go to the executive committee of the American Council on Education. No date has been set for an executive committee meeting, but Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State College and chairman of the special sports committee, said he hopes a meeting will be called immediately.

In addition to writing the report today, the committee was to hear from Ben Carnevale of the Naval Academy, representing the nation's basketball coaches, and Everett Barnes of Colgate, representing the baseball coaches.

At an earlier meeting the college presidents listened to the football coaches, and then decided football games should be confined to the fall.

Their tentative conclusion: No football games after the last Saturday in November or, possibly, the first Saturday in December. They still must decide which date they prefer. But either way they go, it would mean the end of post-season football bowl games if their recommendations are accepted.

Other decisions: They felt that freshmen should not play on varsity teams, that "lavish entertainment" should be prohibited as a way of attracting prize high school athletes, and that college players should take the same courses as other students and keep up with their classes.

The presidents have reached no conclusions on the nub of the whole problem: What should—and can—be done to control recruiting and subsidizing of athletes?

Austin President Gets Loop Award

Dallas, Jan. 7. (AP)—E. P. Knebel, who has spent a life-time in baseball and says it's a game that will go on forever because it operates cleanly, today held the first executive-of-the-year president's award in the Big State League.

Knebel, owner of the Austin club where he has operated baseball since 1947, the year the Big State League was organized, received the award—a plaque—at the scheduled meeting of the league here yesterday.

League President Howard Green, in making the award, said "Baseball usually is left up to people who are civic-minded and love baseball. Nobody ever has made any money out of it."

Knebel received the plaque as one who has made the greatest contribution to the game and to the league. The plaque read: "For his steadfast devotion and lasting contribution to the advancement and security of professional baseball."

Off the Record

By Bill Werley
Sports Editor

The AAA All-State team has been announced and as usual it consists of boys from teams that advanced into the state playoffs.

District 1-AAA did place four boys on the second team—two from Midland and one each from Lamesa and Plainview.

Stan Coker and Ralph Brooks made the second team from Midland and Marshall Crawford of Lamesa and Tom Caskey of Plainview also were chosen.

Ramon Towry and Bill Herchman of Vernon both received honorable mention on the team.

On Jan. 14 the Vernon School Board will meet to study the problem of hiring a new coach for the high school.

The School Board members are elected representatives of the people and as such should be guided by what the people want. They have no way of knowing what or who the people do want, however.

Here is what I propose: Sit down today and write me a postcard listing your choice for a new head coach of Vernon High School.

Two applications—as I understand it—are in. One from Bob Cox and one from Hap Rogers (now coach at Price College in Amarillo). However, name anyone you want and the one you want. I believe that the people should be the one to select a new man for it is the people that make up the city, the county and the school district.

So start those post cards to come—let's show the School Board who we would like to have as head coach.

You write them—I'll see that the School Board gets them. Do it now.

Senior Bowl Set After Big Gate

Mobile, Ala., Jan. 7. (AP)—The Senior Bowl football series, after a risky and unsuccessful start, is a complete success and for the first time the novel game looks like a permanent January sports feature.

After the game, which the North team won 20-6, J. Finley McRae, Senior Bowl president, said that success was assured and then some.

The "then some" he referred to was net profit, 20 per cent of which will be divided among the 50 college players who put on the big show in Ladd Stadium Saturday.

Members of the winning North team were given $500 each and South team members received $400. The take from net profits, not yet known, will be pure pot sweetener.

The turnout for the third Senior Bowl was 19,500 paid admissions. This represented an increase of nearly 7,000 over last January's game and a substantial increase over the first Senior Bowl game played in Jacksonville, Fla., in 1950. Southerners won previous games.

Bowl Problem To Be Eyed at NCAA Meet

Cincinnati, Jan. 7. (AP)—A flock of potential headaches was piled up on the agenda as preliminary session started today for the 46th annual convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The remedies—if found at all—won't be considered until later in the week, but the pains started even before the NCAA delegates arrived.

In fact, some of them, notably that concerning the televising of football games, have been going on for months.

Some of the others concerned post-season athletic contests, principally bowl football games; aid to athletes; out-of-season football and basketball practice, and proposals to give the NCAA greater authority over its members.

In addition, it was a cinch the college basketball gambling scandals and the question of de-emphasis of sports were certain to have at least unofficial places on the program.

The actual NCAA sessions won't start until Thursday but committee gatherings and meetings of affiliated organizations started today.

Louise Suggs Posts Win In Jacksonville Open

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 7. (AP)—A solid little girl with a solid golf game is a tournament winner outside her own back yard for the first time in over a year.

Louise Suggs, 118-pound Carrollton, Ga., professional, was third best money winner of the women's golf tour in 1951. She finished high up in nearly every tournament but the only one she won was the Carrollton Open.

Max Bumgardner Is Named JayCee Coach of Season

(By The Associated Press)
Max Bumgardner, who has been heading San Angelo College's gridiron fortunes for two seasons and has won two championships, today was selected by the Texas Sports Writers Association as Texas Junior College Coach of the Year.

Bumgardner won the honor in a vote-off with Floyd Wagstaff, coach of Tyler Junior College who had his team in the Junior Rose Bowl in California.

Female Athlete Of Year Named

New York, Jan. 7. (AP)—Energetic Maureen Connolly, the second youngest player ever to win the National tennis championship, today was chosen Female Athlete of the Year for 1951 in the annual Associated Press poll.

The apple-cheeked, brown-eyed blonde from San Diego, who captured the tennis crown at Forest Hills just 12 days before her 17th birthday, beat out Florence Chadwick, the English Channel swimmer, and Mrs. Mildred Babe Didrikson Zaharias, a five-time winner in these yearly polls.

Little Mo received 81 first place votes out of the 206 cast by sports writers and sportscasters from coast to coast and a total of 366 points. Miss Chadwick, the attractive ex-steno from San Diego who now is the swimming pro at the Grossinger (N.Y.) Country Club, was second with 287 points and 47 first place nominations.

Mrs. Zaharias, leading money winner among the female golf swingers and named Woman Golfer of the Year, was third with 258 points and 47 first placers.

The leaders, based on three points for first, two for second, and one for third (first place votes in parenthesis):

- 1—Maureen Connolly, tennis (81)—368.
- 2—Florence Chadwick, swimming (57)—287.
- 3—Babe Didrikson Zaharias, golf (47)—258.
- 4—Patty Berg, golf (1)—37.

Texas Christian Sets Pace In Southwest Cage Tests

(By The Associated Press)
Rice and Baylor this week try to stop the headlong dash of Texas Christian toward the Southwest Conference basketball championship.

The Horned Frogs weren't pressed last week in opening the race with victories over Southern Methodist and Texas, considered one of the toughest obstacles. TCU beat SMU 58-43 and Texas 52-43.

Texas A&M, the third team figured in title speculation, won its only conference game, beating Arkansas 47-42.

Rice, which lost to Southern Methodist 57-53, tests the Texas Christian machine at Houston tomorrow night. Baylor, moving into championship play, takes on Texas

Christian at Fort Worth Friday night.

Texas and Southern Methodist get together at Austin tomorrow night. A&M and Rice clash at College Station Friday night and Arkansas tackles Texas at Austin Saturday night.

The Horned Frogs roll on at a 63.4 points-per-game clip. They now have won 12 out of 13 for the season.

Baylor may wind up with one of the worst records of any team in the league. The Bears have won only one out of 12 and last week took a 58-56 trouncing from Southwest Texas State of the Lone Star Conference.

A&M opens this week's activity tonight in a nonconference tilt with Oklahoma City University at Oklahoma City.

George McLeod, the towering Texas Christian center, is so far ahead in the scoring race he probably can't be caught although the season is just a little more than half over. McLeod roped 44 points last week to bring his season total to 242. Second is Billy Hester of Arkansas with 173. Hester won't be adding to his total; he has left Arkansas and gone back to the farm. Ralph Johnson of Baylor is third with 164 points.

Big State League Recalls Franchise

Dallas, Jan. 7. (AP)—The Big State League will settle its membership for 1952 by Jan. 15 when Longview is expected to replace Gainesville.

Meeting here yesterday, league directors recalled the Gainesville franchise when that city said it wasn't yet ready to announce it would be able to go. President Howard Green will receive applications and the city making the best bid will get the vacated spot.

Gainesville still can be in the league if it makes the most attractive bid, but indications are that Longview, which will be operated by Dick Burnett, wealthy owner of the Dallas club of the Texas League, will be the club. A majority vote of the league membership is necessary to take in the club.

Burnett owned the Gainesville club last year when it led the league but could draw only about 50,000 attendance. Burnett withdrew from the club about a month ago.

The league could not adopt a schedule because of the anticipated change in membership but will do so at a meeting in Austin on Jan. 20.

Wichita Falls, Austin, Tyler, Greenville, Waco and Temple announced ready to go. Gabby Lusk, business manager at Texarkana, said his club would be ready if 500 more pledges of support in Texarkana were obtained by Jan. 10.

Indian's Record Still Tops GCC

(By The Associated Press)
North Texas State and Trinity University clash tonight and tomorrow night at San Antonio in opening games of the Gulf Coast Conference championship race.

Midwestern, the third member of the league, will play outside foes.

Midwestern took two licks last week, tumbling before East Texas State 60-52 and Stephen F. Austin, 78-61. But the Indians still have the best season record—8-3. Trinity has lost only three but has played only seven games.

Trinity whipped Texas A&I of the Texas Conference 87-42 last week. North Texas State was idle.

This week's schedule: Monday—Midwestern vs McMurry at Wichita Falls, North Texas State vs Trinity at San Antonio.

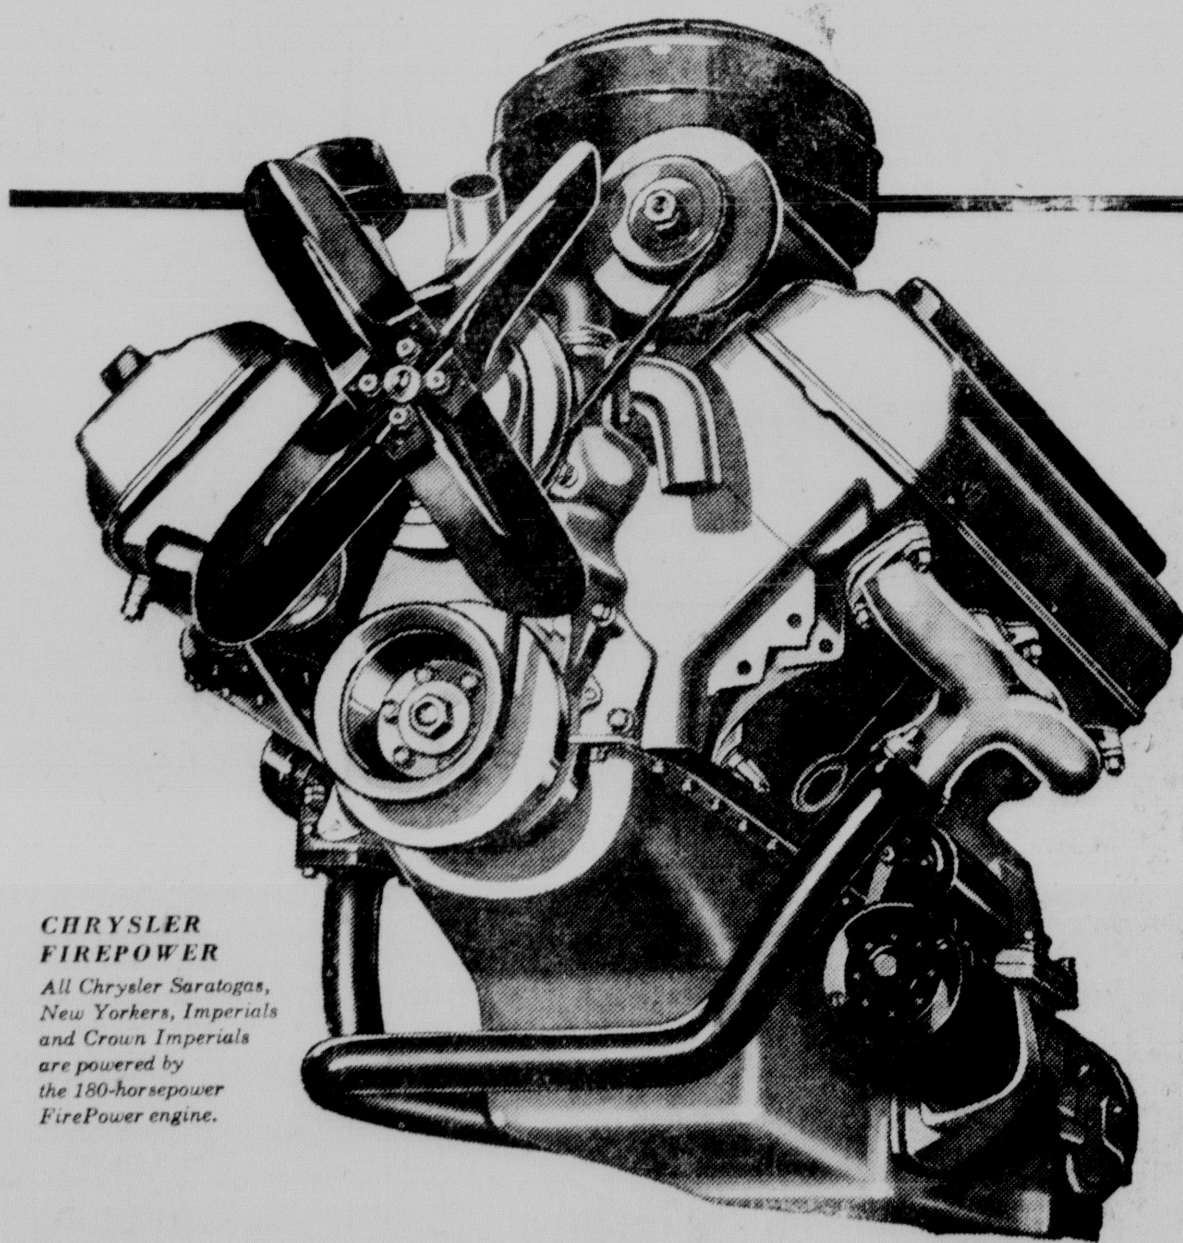

Tuesday—North Texas State vs Trinity at San Antonio.

Thursday—Trinity vs Sul Ross at Alpine.

Friday—North Texas State vs Oklahoma City University at Denton.

Saturday—Midwestern vs Wayland at Plainview, Trinity vs St. Mary's at San Antonio.
